The success of the internship wouldn't have been possible without the effort put in it. The Project Coordinators, I and the students all worked hard to get as near to what was wanted and what was available. It was essentially a tailor-made programme, looking at details, which I think was the bottom line of its success. As for me I do believe in International exposure for all students of the world bringing them closer and in the process learning to respect each other's ways of living. I was happy in helping making the 'Business Internship' a success for all.

Projects Abroad has a really supportive and friendly team. My project was based on logistics and operations and was very well managed and executed by the team. And of course, Sri Lanka is a beautiful country to visit and explore.

Projects Abroad has really given me a great platform to nurture my knowledge about the corporate world, at this age. I feel blessed to experience the office environment and learn about the working of trade and commerce.

Dhruv Jain

I realised that in the corporate world, practical experience is given more weightage over bookish knowledge. So, sure, we have an edge over others. I had a great project assigned to me. It was really fun and interesting working with such big companies and being able to understand the functioning of such companies. Along with that I would also like to mention that the companies where we worked had a very friendly environment and they were as enthusiastic as us to explain new things and concepts related to the company. Now, while talking about Projects Abroad team, only one thing comes to my mind and that is, they are great.

My experience with them was outstanding. They provided us with the smallest of details and helped out with everything. The accommodation, food and their services is something I would never forget. Would surely recommend this project to to other students and schools from India.
